MY VISION FOR XAVIER

“My vision for Xavier is simple. What I want most of all is that a Xavier education be of such quality that each and every graduate will say: ‘I received an absolutely superb education at Xavier. I could not have received a finer education anywhere in the world.’ I want every Xavier graduate to say: ‘I know that I am intellectually, morally and spiritually prepared to take my place in a rapidly changing global society and to have a positive impact on that society - to live a life beyond myself for other people.’ ”

President

HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENTS

PAUL L. O'CONNOR LEADERSHIP AWARD

ROSE ANN FLEMING

Sister Rose Ann Fleming has a Ph.D., a J.D. and an MVP—most valuable player for Xavier's student athletes.

And she's earned them all through plain hard work.

While their coaches guide them to athletic success, Sister Fleming, as coordinator for academic and athletic advising for Xavier's NCAA athletes, nurtures their academic success.

Though fans, coaches and even institutions sometimes let athletes forget their responsibilities as students, Sister Fleming reminds them that learning is the key to winning the biggest game of all—life.

"She takes young men who don't want to learn and helps them grow," says former Xavier men's basketball coach Pete Gillen. "She helps them as people. She gives them confidence in the game of life."

Sister Fleming realizes that student-athletes deal with pressures that can make it hard to stay focused, but she doesn't accept excuses. And she's always there to encourage, assist or give a little push if necessary.

Just ask the athlete who told Sister Fleming he frequently missed a morning class because he slept through his alarm. One morning Sister Fleming gave him a wake-up call. The phone rang 64 times. She hung up and called back. He finally picked up on the 129th ring—and made it to class. She is part of the reason Xavier's men's basketball team has a 100 percent graduation rate.

Such determination has served Sister Fleming well. As president of Trinity College in Washington, D.C., she erased a one million dollar operating deficit, increased enrollment by almost 50 percent and established a one million dollar endowment. She had similar success as superintendent of Summit Country Day School, where she increased student enrollment by more than 60 percent and built a new primary school.

Sister Fleming is no longer one of Xavier's best-kept secrets. She has been featured in the Cincinnati Enquirer, Cincinnati Post, Columbus Dispatch and received national recognition in a Reader's Digest profile and a 30-second cable television spot on the Family Channel. Cincinnati Magazine recognized her work as an attorney in 1995 when she graced the cover as a "Lawyer for the Common Man," an article that profiled some of the town's top attorneys. She has also been a Cincinnati Enquirer Woman of the Year.

But the biggest reward for Sister Fleming are words like these of one of her former students, NBA player Tyrone Hill.

"What I learned from Sister is that what you put into life is what you get out of it."

For her extraordinary service to Xavier University and its student athletes, for demonstrating her faith through her thoughts and deeds, and for exemplifying the spirituality of Ignatius, Xavier is honored to award to Sister Rose Ann Fleming the Paul L. O'Connor Award.

HONORARY DEGREE CITATION

NORMAN C. FRANCIS

If Norman C. Francis was a boastful man, he'd have a lot to brag about. Since he became president of Xavier University of Louisiana 30 years ago, student enrollment has tripled, it has become the top producer of African-American medical school students and Francis has been named one of the most effective college presidents in the nation.

Still, he remains humble.

"I don't wear my title on my chest. I just see everybody as important," he says. "I'm president because that happens to be my job, but that doesn't make me any better than anybody else."

Raised in a loving, religious family—who were, according to Francis, "on the high side of poor"—he learned the values that he has carried throughout his life: compassion, compromise and hard work.

Those values have guided Francis as a leader in education, civil rights and civic leadership.

As a young lawyer—the first African-American graduate of Loyola University Law School in New Orleans in 1955—he traveled throughout the South for the U.S. attorney general's office to help integrate federal agencies. In the 1960s, as Xavier's dean of men, he opened the University's doors to the Freedom Riders after their bus was bombed in Alabama and played a critical role in desegregating lunch counters and buses.

Francis has worked on the national, state and local levels to improve education. He served on the National Commission on Excellence in Education, which produced the "Nation at Risk" report on public schools in the United States. He's been chairman of the board for the Educational Testing Service, the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching, the Southern Education Foundation and the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools, a regional accrediting agency for more than 11,000 institutions in 11 states.

He's received many honors, including the Pioneer in Education Award, the Weiss Brotherhood award from the New Orleans chapter of the National Association of Christians and Jews and the Times-Picayune Loving Cup of 1991, which recognizes citizens who have worked unselfishly for the community without expectation of public recognition or material reward. In 1986 he was named one of the 100 most effective college presidents according to a survey by the Council for Advancement and Support for Education.

Retired Archbishop of New Orleans Philip Hannan says "Norman underscores the truth that we can't realize our potential unless we help others realize theirs."

Under Francis' leadership, Xavier University of Louisiana, the nation's only Roman Catholic historically black university, is receiving national acclaim. Xavier has ranked first nationally in the number of African-American graduates receiving degrees in physical sciences, its College of Pharmacy has a national reputation for excellence, and for the last five years, Xavier has sent more African-American students to medical school than any other college in the nation. The New York Times Selective Guide for Colleges describes Xavier as "a school where achievement has been the rule."

Francis says simply: "I was one lawyer who could have done a few things. Now I sit back and see a number of lawyers, teachers, physicians, dentists and social workers that hopefully I had some part in educating. It's like throwing a rock into the water."

For displaying superior and courageous leadership, for promoting excellence in education and for his dedication and commitment to educating tomorrow's leaders, Xavier is honored to award Norman C. Francis the degree Doctor of Humanities, honoris causa.

XAVIER UNIVERSITY LEADERSHIP AWARD

JOHN M. TEW JR., M.D.

Neurosurgeon John M. Tew saves lives. And when he's not giving the gift of life, he's simply giving: to his community, church, family and Xavier. In his professional and personal life, Tew models the real definition of service and leadership.

Tew's entire career has been one of accomplishment and accolades. Tew is an internationally recognized pioneer and authority on medical applications of lasers. He was one of the first U.S. surgeons to perform laser surgery on brain tumors. Tew has been chair, section of neurosurgery, at both Good Samaritan Hospital and The Deaconess Hospital and is now professor and chairman of the department of neurosurgery at UC Medical Center.

Tew graduated from Wake Forest University in 1957, then went on to its Bowman Gray School of Medicine, where he received his medical degree in 1961. He received his early surgical training at Cornell Medical Center in New York and Peter Bent Brigham Hospital in Boston. He completed his neurosurgical training at Massachusetts General Hospital and Boston's Children's Hospital. In 1969, as the recipient of the William P. Van Wagenen Fellowship in Neurosurgery, he studied at the University of Zurich. He also studied microneurosurgery in Switzerland, Scotland, Edinburgh, Sweden and Germany.

Tew has received a distinguished Alumni Award from his alma mater, Bowman Gray School of Medicine and an honorary degree from Campbell University in Buies Creek, North Carolina. He has been listed in Best Doctors in America, named the Hospital Hero by the UC Medical Center, received a Distinguished Service Citation by the National Conference of Christians and Jews, named one of the 1,500 best doctors in the U.S. by Town and Country magazine and recognized as one of the country's best neurosurgeons by Good Housekeeping Magazine.

"John is a world-renowned surgeon," says Gerald DeBrunner in his nomination. "Yet he is a very humble, unassuming man. He truly is a man for others in the best Jesuit traditions and teachings."

Not surprisingly, Tew's civic and community involvement is as impressive as his professional accomplishments. Tew is always willing to volunteer his time and effort to help organizations like the Cincinnati Art Museum, Good Samaritan Hospital, Kids Helping Kids, the Historical Society of Cincinnati and Xavier University. As a former Xavier trustee, Tew played a crucial role in the Cornerstone Campaign and chaired the committee to build the Carl H. Lindner Family Physics Building.

For his extraordinary and distinguished leadership and accomplishment in the field of neurosurgery, for his service and dedication to his community and Xavier University and for exemplifying the values and mission of our Jesuit tradition, Xavier is honored to award to John Tew the 1998 Xavier University Leadership Medallion.

XAVIER'S HERITAGE

Xavier was founded in 1831 by Bishop Edward Dominic Fenwick, O.P., pioneer Catholic bishop of Ohio, as the first Catholic institution of higher learning in the Northwest Territory.

Known as the Athenaeum, the college's first building in downtown Cincinnati, was largely financed by European Catholics and particularly by Catholic citizens of Vienna. The first class numbered 60 students. From its beginning, the school was dedicated to the patronage of St. Francis Xavier. The Athenaeum attracted students from as far away as New Orleans, Mexico and Central America, and its educational quality drew many local Protestant students.

At the invitation of Bishop John Purcell of Cincinnati, the Society of Jesus (Jesuits) assumed control of the institution in 1840, ensuring a steady source of faculty. Under John A. Elet, S.J., the first Jesuit president, the institution was renamed St. Xavier College.

Xavier offered its first evening classes in 1841 and summer courses were introduced in 1914, thus beginning a tradition of serving the unique needs and schedules of professionals and aspiring professionals in the Cincinnati community.

In 1920, the college moved to its present site in Avondale, and in 1930 was renamed Xavier University, reflecting its growth and complexity. While women had been attending Xavier's evening college since its early years, Xavier's undergraduate "day" college became coeducational in 1969. In 1980 Xavier acquired the Edgecliff College programs and integrated them with those at Xavier, and by 1987, Edgecliff faculty, staff and students were moved onto the Xavier campus.

Xavier's growth in over a century and a half since its founding reflects its origins as a teaching institution which soundly prepares students for careers or graduate study or both. A Xavier education, particularly at the undergraduate level, is marked by the emphasis on liberal arts learning contained in Xavier's core curriculum. Equally important in the Xavier tradition is the synthesis of human, cultural and ethical values; concern and respect for people; and an appreciation of the worth and dignity of the self and others.

The College of Arts and Sciences, Xavier's largest and oldest college, enrolls approximately 1,650 undergraduate and 100 graduate students, and accepts the primary responsibility for the liberal education of all Xavier undergraduates. The College of Business Administration enrolls 700 undergraduates and 1,200 MBA students, and is dedicated to preparing business students for positions of responsibility and leadership. The College of Social Sciences enrolls 950 undergraduate and 1,200 graduate students in specialized areas of human services.

Xavier has been an innovator in graduate education, establishing, for example, the first graduate program in Montessori education in the United States. Its graduate programs in education have produced the second highest number of school administrators in the state of Ohio. Xavier's graduate program in health services administration is a recognized innovator in the field. The Executive MBA Program, the Evening Health Services Administration Program and the MEd in Human Resource Development educate upper level managers, professionals and executives while they maintain their current positions in their respective organizations.

ACADEMIC APPAREL HISTORY AND SIGNIFICANCE

The history of academic dress and its significance has its beginnings from the earliest days of the old universities. As early as the fourteenth century some colleges required scholars to wear long gowns. Specifications of academic apparel became greatly diversified in Europe.

In May 1895, representatives from colleges and universities in the United States met at Columbia University to adopt a national standardized inter-collegiate academic apparel code.

The "Intercollegiate Bureau of Academic Costume" was formed in 1902 to serve as the information source in matters pertaining to academic dress. In 1932 the American Council on Education appointed a committee to revise the apparel codes established in 1895. Review and revisions to the 1895 academic apparel codes occurred in 1932 and 1959.

GOWNS

The gown for the bachelor's degree has pointed sleeves and is worn closed. The master's degree gown has oblong sleeves which open at the wrist and is designed with fasteners so that it may be worn open or closed. Both the bachelor's and master's degree gowns are black with no trimming.

HOODS

Hoods are worn for the master's degree. The material of the hood is black and is made of the same material as the gown. The master's hood should be three and one-half feet in length and lined with the official color or colors of the college or university conferring the degree. The edging is to be three inches of velvet or velveteen with the color being distinctive of the subject to which the degree pertains. The colors that pertain to Xavier's degrees are as follows:

Arts	White
Business	Drab
Education	Light Blue
Science	Golden Yellow
Health Services
Administration	Kelly Green

CAPS

Black mortarboards of the same material as the gown are to be worn with the tassel of the color pertaining to the degree fastened to the middle point of the top of the cap.

PROCESSIONAL BANNERS

The banners carried in today's ceremony represent Xavier's three colleges. A banner precedes the undergraduate and graduate students from each college.

THE COLLEGE OF ARTS & SCIENCES

Wisdom, revealed by Christ and discovered by human reason, was seen in the Middle Ages as a lamp, and the university was created to be the lampstand that would make it shine before all.

THE COLLEGE OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

The ship of commerce recognizes that the earliest business communication and trade between nations was by merchant ships. The spirit of these early entrepreneurs sparked the growth of modern day business.

THE COLLEGE OF SOCIAL SCIENCES

The orb is symbolic of the many cultures who benefit from the associate through doctoral degree programs offered in professional and liberal arts disciplines. The quill represents devotion to the advancement and dissemination of knowledge locally, nationally and internationally.

PHOTOGRAPHY

Photographs of the graduates will be taken by a professional photographer during the ceremony. If desired, additional individual and family portrait opportunities will be provided during the reception at Yeatman's Cove. Guests are permitted to take pictures from the floor area by the stage. Please use the stairs between sections 114 and 116. In consideration of others, please limit your time in the photography area.

THE SEAL OF XAVIER UNIVERSITY

The seal of Xavier University combines three principal ideas: St. Francis Xavier, patron of the university; the Jesuit order of which he was a distinguished member; and the university. The five vertical stripes suggest the coat of arms of the Xavier family. A right arm wearing the Jesuit robe holds aloft the crucifix, signifying St. Francis Xavier preaching Christ crucified. The three sea shells signify the three journeys of Xavier into the Orient. Above the shield is the Jesuit seal, IHS, the first three letters of the name Jesus in Greek. Below is the Jesuit motto, AMDG [Ad Majorem Dei Gloriam], which translates "to the Greater Glory of God," and the words Vidit Mirabilia Magna, a phrase from the psalms applied to St. Francis Xavier which translates "he has seen great wonders."

ALMA MATER XAVIER

Dear Alma Mater Xavier!

Undying troth we pledge to you
That we the living shall hold true
The faith of those of years now gone
Inviolate kept and thus passed on.
So may the truth within us dwell
And may this song our voices swell
Until resounds o'er hill and dell
Dear Alma Mater Xavier.
